Admission Process for PGDM in PBS

PBS has a thriving business landscape that provides numerous opportunities for individuals who wish to pursue a PGDM. However, navigating the admission process can be challenging. It is crucial to understand the Eligibility Criteria, Entrance Exams, Application Process, And Selection Criteria.

- Seat Intake: 60 Intake for "General Business Management"(GBM) 60 Intake for "Agri Business Management"(ABM)
- Eligibility Criteria: A recognized Bachelor's degree with a minimum of 50% marks is standard. Work experience may be considered an advantage.
- Entrance Exams: CAT, MAT, XAT, ATMA or CMAT are commonly accepted, evaluating aptitude and readiness for management studies.
- Application Process: The application process entails the completion of both an online and offline form, submission of academic documents, and payment of an application fee. It is imperative that all required documents are submitted in a timely manner to ensure that the application is processed efficiently. Please note that failure to provide all necessary information may result in a delay in the processing of the application.
- Selection Criteria: In addition to entrance exams, essay writing skills and personal interviews (GDPI) are utilized to evaluate communication skills, analytical thinking, and alignment with the PGDM program. These assessments are crucial in determining the suitability of candidates for the program. It is imperative that candidates demonstrate their ability to communicate effectively, think critically, and align with the program's objectives. Therefore, the evaluation process is designed to ensure that only the most qualified candidates are selected for the PGDM program.
