From the Director's Desk

As we enter January 2026, Manthan reflects a phase of purposeful growth and deepening engagement at Pune Business School. The recent period has been marked by the launch and strengthening of People X, a flagship student empowerment initiative that brings together industry voices, academic perspectives, and contemporary people practices through panel discussions, student workshops and podcasts. Alongside this, alumni interactions, industry-linked learning experiences, and the commencement of the new academic session have further reinforced the institute's commitment to relevance-driven education. Together, these initiatives represent PBS's ongoing effort to create meaningful learning ecosystems that blend academic rigor with real-world exposure.

From the Dean's Desk

The beginning of the even semester has been marked by high energy, purposeful engagement, and strong alignment between curriculum and practice. From industry interactions and live projects to knowledge-sharing platforms and experiential learning opportunities, students have been encouraged to explore, question, and apply management concepts in real contexts. Co-curricular and extracurricular initiatives during this period further reinforced teamwork, resilience, and innovation, essential attributes for future managers. I am confident that these collective efforts are shaping our students into thoughtful, industry-ready professionals, and I appreciate the continued dedication of our faculty and institutional teams in making this possible.
